LOCAL MATTERS.

READING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

PROCLAMATION.

Tuesday, October 9th, being the day of the General Election in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, there was, for the better preservation of the usual good order and quiet of the city and the general well-being of the citizens, and at the suggestion of the Common Council, I do hereby command and enjoin upon all keepers of hotels and restaurants or other places whereat beer, wine, spirits, or any like liquors are usually sold to close their bars and suspend the traffic in the same, and throughout the day of Tuesday, the 9th instant, to the city of Titusville. No beer, wine or intoxicating drinks will be permitted to be sold or in anywise furnished on that day.

The Chief of Police and Constables will attend to it, and are directed in all cases to enforce the observance of the order against the sale or furnishing of beer, wine or intoxicating liquors on the 9th in the city of Titusville.

J. K. ANGIER, Mayor
Titusville, October 8, 1866.

The Polls

Open to-morrow morning at 7 o'clock. We hope there will be no delay in the organization of the Board. The vacancies in the several wards of Judges or Inspectors, can be filled, and the polls promptly opened at the hour indicated, if due attention is given to the subject.

The Dying Words of Abraham Lincoln.

We print on our first page to-day the last public utterances of Abraham Lincoln. Let every voter read it. It is a perfect refutation of the assertion of Democratic orators and the Democratic press, that Johnson has pursued Lincoln's policy. Read it, fellow-citizens, and as you revere the memory of our martyred President, recall his "golden sayings."

The struggle of to-day is not altogether for to-day; for a vast future also. With a reliance on Providence, all the more firm and earnest, let us proceed in the great task which events have devolved upon us."

Let us resolve that the martyred dead shall not have died in vain."

What Does Grant Say?

This question is very frequently asked. Here is what he said recently to a gentleman editorially connected with the Chicago Republicans:

"To such men whose sons had shed their blood for the Union to vote for men who had been disloyal to it was the greatest insult that could be offered."

Comment is unnecessary.

One Democrat for Five Republicans.

We caution our readers on one point. One of the many Democratic tricks of this campaign, is for one of their voters to "pair off" with a Republican, in regard to one or more names on the respective tickets. One Democrat will make this agreement with as many Republicans as possible, thus getting a number of votes for one. Vote your whole ticket—no compromise.

To the Judges of Election.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republican Union Club on Saturday evening last, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Club will sustain the Judges and Inspectors of Election in refusing all votes offered by deserters, and will guarantee their defense in any prosecution that may arise from their refusing such votes.

Too Late!

We had indulged the hope that "whited sepulchres," the hall of the Dark Lancers Club, would be thrown open yesterday for Republican service, and thus afford the truly hopeful members of that benighted organization a last opportunity for retrieving their reputation and jolting the glorious and triumphant throng of Union patriots. But the doors of the Opera House remained closed and the windows, in usual, were darkened. The "day of grace" has departed.

Who is Most Bewailed?

The Copperheads well "millions of dollars for the bigger Burnside!" General Wager Swayne reports officially that two dollars have been expended from the Bureau fund for the poor Southern whites, where one is paid for the Freedmen. Thousands of poor white Democrats in the South have been saved from starvation by this very Bureau.

A LAST WORD.

It rests with the honest and incorruptible Republican Union electors of Titusville to defeat the Copper-Clymer party so overwhelmingly at the polls, to-morrow, that it will require all virtue to prove that there was ever a Dark-Lancers Club in existence.

Remember that in voting the Republican Union ticket, you vote in condemnation of the rebellion; in vindication of the New Orleans massacre; in rejection of Johnson's infamous policy of restoring unpunished Rebels to power; in repudiation of the rebel debt; in support of a loyal Congress, and for the reconstruction of the Union upon the basis of equal rights for both North and South.

Let us then roll up such a majority on the side of FREE LABOR and DIMINISHED TAXATION as will send a thrill of joy and gladness to the heart and home of EVERY HONEST, HARD-WORKING MECHANIC and LABORER in the oil regions.

THIS CAN BE DONE, and we have faith enough in the Republican Electors of Titusville to believe that it WILL BE DONE! To accomplish this, however, we must WORK. The first thing to be done, is to VOTE EARLY!

Nothing helps the working men at the polls so much as to see their friends early on the spot. It relieves committees of an immense amount of anxiety, and leaves them at liberty to direct their attention to the aged, the infirm, and doubtful, the polls.

OPEN AT SEVEN O'CLOCK! and every merchant, mechanic and laboring man, whose business prevents his giving the day to the cause, should deposit his ballot at the earliest possible moment.

CHALLENGE THE DOUBTFUL!

We are informed, from "Democratic" sources, that in several of the wards there are many persons who have voted at former elections, but never were legal voters. These cases should be ferreted out. It will be perfectly safe to CHALLENGE EVERY MAN NOT KNOWN TO BE A VOTER. No honest man will complain of this.

DON'T WRANGLE!

even with those who may attempt to play the TRAITOR, but WORK for the WHOLE TICKET! So shall a glorious triumph reward your efforts, and Titusville be placed in the front rank of the Republican phalanx of Eastern Crawford, which shall march to an assured victory over the apologists for Treason and Rebellion!

FORWARD IS THE WORD!

The Heathen Rage.

The full campaign in Pennsylvania ends tomorrow. It has been active and vigorous from the start. All the political elements are in a ferment. General Apathy appears to have lost control or prestige in this contest, and in this place we have commanders of a different sort. JOHN W. GEARY, the Republican standard-bearer, is emphatically one among a thousand. He towers intellectually, as well as physically, above his opponent. He is at once soldier, patriot, statesman. HESTER CLYMER stands, like Milton's Satan, bold, impudent, defiant of justice and reason; an evildoer, incendiary, scoundrel; a sympathizer with the rebels, an opponent to the war; an apologist and advocate of treason. The cohorts who are arrayed ready to follow Lucifer are in no mood. All Pandemonium is aroused to sympathy with this Copperphey party. The revolutionaries emblazoned in these circulars strike not only at the majesty of the law and the peace of constitutional elections, but also at the lives of loyal men.

Circular 4—Private.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE ROOMS, 828 WALNUT ST., PHILADELPHIA, September 12th, 1866.

To J. B. Samsom, Chairman of County Committee of Indiana County:

DEAR SIR—The subject of the deserte lists requires prompt and thorough attention. These lists are being furnished by the Adjutant General to the Comptroller of the State, and it will be attempted to rectify the errors of all those who made them.

The case of HUBER is, fairly settled, the question of "Desertion and Failure to return to the Service or to report to a Provost Marshal, is entitled to you." This is the fixed opinion of the Supreme Court, and they stand firmly by it.

The only evidence of "Desertion is the Reward of Good Conduct Act." As soon as known as the Montgomery Act, it clearly makes all other cases, all other cases, and I desire to impress it upon you and our friends, that the law is with us in this matter, and that we will be sustained in reciting these rates in every case, AND WILL BE JUSTIFIED IN RESORTING TO ALMOST EVERY MEANS TO PUNISH THEM.

None of the penalties imposed by that law can ever be enforced. I have the very highest authority to say this to you.

I have, also, every right, in my opinion, to demand the Act of Assembly directly before the Comptroller, but up to this time have not succeeded. I shall not relax my efforts in that and another direct on.

In the necessity for impeaching a traitor, I have to give the following general directions. I trust you will see them attended to, and also use all other means that you and your friends deem wise in the emergency.

I will, when you will furnish you with complete lists of all the electors dead, and reporting drafted men, for whom there is no place to get them, and as I obtain others will also furnish them to you. One copy of this list will be furnished to you for each election district. "Forewarned is forearmed." The law makes the certificate of the Clerk of Quarter Sessions the evidence of desertion, and it is probable that the enemy will get certificates to us against our men, and we must be prepared with documents against them. If it is necessary.

The first thing to be done is to call our election affects fully up to the mark, and sustain them in receiving these rates. I advise that a circular be issued to the electors of the several districts of the Commonwealth, to the effect that the election will be delayed until the 10th instant, and that the election be held on the 11th. I will furnish you with certificates to the election officials to that effect.

The man who wants to see treacherous soldiers in Confederate gray occupying seats in Congress, need only vote the Democratic ticket.

The man who wants the rebel debt paid, need only vote the Democratic ticket, and those traitors will be saluted as a burden, by direct taxation, on every honest man.

The man who wants to see traitors pensioned, need only vote the Democratic ticket, and he paves the way to the realization of that object.

SOLDIERS! if you want the traitors you have whipped in fair fight to be set up as superior in the control of the Government you saved from the peril of the situation. They realize that if this nation is to be preserved from a reorganization in war, slavery, moreover, it must be saved now. But let the heathen rage! They will get their quietus at the polls.

Keep It Before the Tax-Payers.

That a ratification of the Constitutional Amendment depends on the election of a Republican Legislature. One of these amendments provides for the repudiation of the rebel debt. If the amendments are not ratified, it follows that the rebel debt will not be repudiated. The next step, after the failure to repudiate that debt, will be to secure its payment. This payment will not and cannot be made by the late slave States. It must be assumed by the national Government, and will become a burden on the people of the free States. These are facts for all voters. A vote now will however prevent a marriage to raise money to pay rebel debts, from being laid on every loyal man's home. Mechanics and workingmen of Titusville, consider these undeniable facts.

Grant Does Not Support "My Policy."

The Detroit Post makes a strong point when it says that General Grant's letter to Colonel Hiller, of New York, was a scathing rebuke to Johnson and Seward, who have both repeatedly intimated that he (Grant) was in favor of "My Policy." Says the Post: "General Grant could not rebuke his superior officer, but the moment he caught a public man, not his superior in rank, he came down on the falsehood as he pounced upon Lee's broken hosts at Petersburg, thus hitting the President and his Secretary a terrible blow, over Hiller's shoulder. 'No man,' says General Grant, 'has any right to commit me to a support of "My Policy." As Senator Cowan was in the habit of saying that Grant is with Andy Johnson, he may gather information from this suggestion.

Brother Soldiers!

Soldiers of the three months service, who left Vallandigham from your camp near Washington because of his dastardly course, and also, ye soldiers of the three years service, who only asked that, instead of his punishment, this same Copperhead be turned over to their treatment, we ask you to remember that Hester Clymer in his efforts to subdue Vallandigham in all his efforts to cripple the Government while putting down the rebellion. Would you now support Vallandigham if he was the candidate in Pennsylvania for Governor? How, then, can you labor for one God, from the beginning, hard and fast on the same platform?

Look Out For Frauds!

Our readers must remember that the Johnson democracy are resorting to all kinds of underhand work. Bogus tickets of all kinds are being prepared for the purpose of deceiving the unsuspecting. See yourself that your ticket reads correctly. Do not be trapped into voting for Mr. Johnson's policy.

"The Boys in Blue"

Titusville Morning Herald.

Peter Cooper's Letter to Andrew Johnson, read the following forcible language of Peter Cooper, of New York, in his letter to Andrew Johnson:

"It will be possible for us to get ourselves admitted into it, it would be fitting with clarity and tenacity to the end of the evils, to which we are subjected with him, instead of returning, failing and failing and still for evil.

"I have thought it strange and unaccountable that you should so severely censure the large majority in Congress for adopting so mild a series of measures as a means of the great and irreconcileable, foul and perfidious, of the States so called, while measures so much more mild than those so forcibly recommended by yourself, where you said, "treason against the Government is the highest crime that can be committed and those engaged in it should suffer all its penalties;" and when you declared "that treason must be made odious" — traitors must be punished and traitors — their must not only be punished but their soul must be destroyed." If they maintain an ascendancy, and may again become numerous enough for treason to become respectable."

You go further, and say that "after making treasonous every Union man, who have numbered out of the Union, those who have numbered out of the Union, will be numbered out of the country."

Answer you say: "I hold it a solemn obligation, however, of these States where the Rebels have been beaten back or expelled, I can not now small the number of Union men, it enough to man the ship of State, I hold it to be a high duty to protect and sent to their republican form of government until they again gain strength. They must not be smothered by me."

In calling a Convention to restore States, you ask, "Who shall restore it?" shall the man who gave his influence and his means to destroy the Government?" Is he not in the great work of reorganizing the Government, who brought this misery on the States?" Then you say that all the previous blood of Union soldiers and officers, will have been lost, and all our battle-fields will have been made memorable in.

You ask, "Why all this care?" It was that treason must be put down and traitors punished. Therefore you say, "that traitors should take a kick seat in the work of restoration."

You say the traitor was caused to be a citizen in forming the Rebellion become a public enemy?"

You further say "he forfeited his right to vote with loyal men when he renounced his citizenship, and sought to destroy the Government."

You say "these Rebel leaders must feel the power of the Government; treason must be made odious, traitors must be punished and traitors — their soul must be destroyed."

You have said, "their great plantations must be seized and divided into small farms, and sold to honest, industrious men."

You then add, "the day for protecting the hands and negroes of these authors of rebellion is past."

You say "you have been deeply pained by seeing the progress of the Southern rebellion."

You say "you gain men in command who, under the influence of flattery, favoring and caressing, grant protection to rich traitors, while the poor Union man stands out in the cold."

You add, "traitors can get lucrative contracts, while the loyal man is pushed aside, and left to the top, the such a position will not longer be held by the man who has the best claim to it."

In relation to reconstruction of the Government, you have wisely said, "We must not be in the midst of a hurry." You add, "it is better to let men reconstruct themselves than force them to it."

In conformity with your own wise recommendation, the majority of Congress have decided to make an Amendment to the Constitution that nothing is more appropriate for all the rebel States to reconstruct themselves, and come into the possession of those rights which they have forfeited by rebellion — a rebellion that has cost the lives and limbs of untold thousands, and thousands of millions of debt which remains yet to be written to the confederate States, and to all the other traitors who have been aiding and abetting, with the chances to purchase such as to make it."

These will be fully accepted and adopted the abandonment that tends reconstruction so favorable and convenient before the assembling of another Congress, unless they are encouraged to delay, in the hope that those who were but traitors during the war will come to their relief and re-establish them in power, with which they would have to get payment for or re-establish their aggregate of legislation, which they failed to get by their rebellion.

After having read the many patriotic expressions and denunciations that you have made against and their rebellion, I was led to believe that you would be the last man that would reconstruct or accept of any terms of reconstruction that would not offer a full security for the future, even if you might be persuaded by myself and others to waive all indemnity for the past.

I was grieved and disappointed while showing my respects to you as President of the United States, to find myself listening to what appeared to me an unjust and unmerited censure of the measures which a large majority of the people's representatives believed to be the right, and the most just and most acceptable to the people.
